2006 FIFA World Cup™ Germany

The World Cup of soccer is held every four years, and is the biggest sporting event worldwide, barring the Olympic Games. This truly international competition will again attract the giants of the game, such as France, Japan, Brazil, England etc. (and still hopefully Australia) and promises to be the best of the best of the World Game. Held for the first time since 1974 in Germany, the tournament is being held on the finest stage in the world.

This is a once in a lifetime opportunity to see the beauty and diversity of Germany's landscapes, its rich cultural heritage and the intelligence and good humour of its people and of course the best soccer teams in the world going head to head.
